Chair's Report

August 25, 2021

Dear Colleagues,

The past month has been full of subcommittee meetings and a considerable number of meetings with staff. We have also heard appreciation and concerns regarding current funding and programs. We now come to the full Council with thoughtful recommendations and ideas.

I would like to take a moment to say goodbye and thank you to Jaime Galli, who was appointed to the Council by Governor Brown in October of 2014 and reappointed in 2018. In her tenure she served as Vice-President in 2020 and participated on various committees. I would like to particularly thank her for her participation in the development of the Strategic Framework which has become the guiding tool for the Council's work. We appreciate her long-time service to the residents of California and wish her well in all her future endeavors.

In today's meeting, we will be catching up on past minutes that have also served to inform our movement forward. The Evaluation team has been meeting regularly and will provide us with an overview of their work to date. The Allocations committee and Program Policy committee will have a set of recommendations that will require thoughtful discussion. While these items were initially all presented as action items, some needed changes have occurred and I look to the possibility of tabling action on some items until our September meeting, to give the Council and the Field more time to consider what has been proposed.

On June 15 when Governor Newsome announced that level 4 facilities could open, we all breathed a sigh of relief. We could see the possibility of theater openings, performing artists getting back to work in front of live audiences and gallery receptions and fundraising events, so important to the arts funding equation, all leading to a gradual but constant economic recovery for our sector. The Council's well vetted and agreed upon funding plans, to align our funding cycle with the State's Fiscal year so that we might better project future grant funding and plans for a dual cycle funding formula for 2022 all continued to make sense.

Then the COVID Variant hit, and our plans, no longer seem to meet the needs of the arts community. Even if venues and programs are not required to close, the intelligent patrons of the arts will cautiously not participate and attend performances where exposure to the variant may lurk. This caution will negatively impact our constituents. Over the past few weeks, we have heard from the arts Field, and we have considered various ways to again provide support to our constituents at this critical time of need.

Staff and the allocations committee have worked together to propose a modification in our adopted 2021 funding cycle. It is incumbent upon us as the Arts Council to ensure that the Field is heard and when possible that we adjust our thinking to respond in a way that best serves the public. This item will require our immediate action.

The Equity committee has provided materials for our review, which I hope will lead to a robust discussion on next steps to support the Council's commitment to racial equity. The Budget overview by staff will serve to ground us as we consider 2022 programs and allocations. Both the Governance committee and the Legislative committee will round out our meeting with updates.

This is a very full meeting; I appreciate the time it must have taken for everyone to review and consider items on this agenda, and I thank the staff for presenting the information in a timely manner so that we could prepare for today's work.

Respectfully Submitted by Lilia Gonzales Chavez, Council Chair

Director's Report from Anne Bown-Crawford

August 25, 2021

We met just barely a month ago and are still filled with gratitude for the recognition from the Governor's Office and the Legislature that creativity is Californian.

The 2021 budget package was actually signed during our July meeting. Ayanna Kiburi and I will be providing an overview of our 2022 budget in this August meeting.

This report will be brief, since we met so recently.

California Creative Corps Pilot Program Development

As you know our award of $60 million to implement the California Creative Corps Pilot Program is one-time General Fund monies, to be spent over three years. We will start guideline development and hiring limited term staff concurrently. Staff is currently designing a timeline for the program. Guideline development for this program will begin with the convening of a California Creative Corps Advisory Committee. The Advisory Committee will include representatives from other state departments and agencies engaged in public health activities; representatives from arts organizations and community organizations; and individual artists that are already working at the intersection of arts and wellness, the environment, election participation, and social justice, and that represent the priority populations to be engaged; and potential funding partners. The actual strategies we will use to develop the Advisory Committee are in the planning stages now. We expect the Advisory Committee to bring forth recommendations for program development utilizing the CAC's Strategic Framework, including the Racial Equity Statement and Decision Support Tool. We also expect the Advisory Committee to be engaged at regular intervals throughout the course of the funding period, including the program evaluation process.

This program will support artists and local arts organizations with a focus on art campaigns including: (1) public health awareness messages to stop the spread of COVID-19; (2) public awareness related to water and energy conservation, and emergency preparedness, relief, and recovery; (3) civic engagement, including election participation; and (4) social justice and community engagement. The Arts Council shall provide grants in every county and prioritize grants in zip codes in the lowest quartile of the California Healthy Places Index.

2021 Grants

There is a very important and exciting revision to our 2021 grant distribution that the Allocations Committee will be bringing to you for a discussion and vote during this meeting. I am proud of our Council for responding to the need articulated and demonstrated by our constituents across the state.

Staffing Updates

This week we welcome our new Programs Staff Manager, Tiffany Kelly. We are also bringing Adam Mackey, as a Procurement Specialist. We will continue to hire and expand the CAC team, increasing our capacity with permanent and limited term staff.

CAC Offices moving in late 2021/early 2022

Adam Quintana is the point person for our move to the new space in Natomas, which is still in the greater Sacramento area, close to the Capitol. We are in an exciting phase of visualizing possibilities for the light filled space we have chosen.

Evaluation Update From Scansion and WolfBrown

I am excited that we can share the progress of our evaluation this meeting. The work has been multi-faceted and generative.

DREAM magazine

I want to encourage anyone interested to subscribe to the magazine. The print edition of DREAM is available at no cost to readers, thanks to the partnership from Engaging the Senses Foundation, which is an educationally oriented nonprofit focused on collaborative partnerships, projects, and outreach that bring the visual arts, music, literature, and poetry to the public in innovative, impactful ways.

“Virtual” Brown Act Meetings Will Expire September 30th

Just a reminder that on June 11, 2021, Governor Gavin Newsom issued Executive Order N-08-21, which among other things rescinds his prior Executive Order N-29-20 and sets a date of October 1, 2021 for public agencies to transition back to public meetings held in full compliance with the Brown Act. We will keep you posted on any updates regarding this. I do not anticipate an in person meeting until perhaps December. Directions for compliance with the Brown Act while meetinging virtually will be forthcoming as we get closer to the cutoff date for what has become our “Zoom business as usual”.

Jaime Galli

We want to thank Jaime for her service to the State, and to the Arts Council. We are grateful for what she has contributed, for all of her work on the Strategic Framework Committee and more. We wish her well and hope that she will continue to inform the process here at the CAC.

Summer 2021 is almost done!

I am grateful that many of our staff have been able to take a bit of much deserved summer vacation time with their families. I believe that no matter how challenging our context is our families, our communities, our individual well being are our strength. I am proud that the CAC is striving to nourish community as best it can.

- Julie Baker

My name is Julie Baker, executive director of California for the Arts, pleased to be here today to celebrate the kickoff of Arts, Culture and Creativity Month in the state of California, which is a Senate Concurrent Resolution from 2019, and we hope everyone will join us in celebration of arts and culture and creativity in the state of California. We dedicate all of our efforts and advocacy throughout the month as well as throughout the rest of the year to your former Chair Larry Baza. We also want to celebrate today the kickoff of our first outdoor events guidelines that have been posted on the California COVID19.ca.gov website, and we're doing a webinar tomorrow with the Newsom administration, Dee Dee Myers, California Department of Public Health, and CalOSHA. All of our events are free, so we invite people to join us for that webinar, so you can learn what you can do right now in terms of doing outdoor seated events starting today in California. We also invite you to participate in Arts Advocacy Week, April 19-23, and also for our one-day convening on April 27 where we will have nine sessions learning about what's happening in arts advocacy and how you can engage really inspiring amazing panelists and speakers. All of the information is on our website: CaliforniansForTheArts.org, and it's just great that is April 1 our kicking off Arts, Culture and Creativity Month here in the state of California. We thank the Council for all their hard work to advance these issues here in the State, as well as the awesome staff, and we wish you a great meeting. Thank you so much.

- Ahmet Ustunel

Hello, thank you for giving me the opportunity to talk. I'd like to talk about NADC funding for artists with disabilities. And I'm a visually impaired artist and a current recipient of their funding. I've also received the grant in the in the past couple of times. And I like to talk about how important it was to me, and I also think other people with disabilities, artists with disabilities, will share my experience and thoughts. So I first received a grant in 2008 and that was the start of my art career, I was able to sign up for ceramic classes at a studio in San Diego, and at that time that was the only funding I could find to fund my studio fees and material fees, and soon after that was actually my first art training, official art training. I was always interested in arts, but I always wanted to get an official training; that was the first time. And I was not sure how it was going to go, but after six months or a year—less than a year, I was able to create art good enough to display in galleries and sell my work and started to support myself through my sales. The grant funding not only created an art training opportunity for me, but also helped me to start a new job and I was able to get some art teaching jobs through my career.

- Janis Butler Holm

I'm Janice Butler Holm, an otherly abled creative writer located in Los Angeles. Why has the CAC suspended funding for the Arts and Accessibility grants co-sponsored by the NADC? We in the disability community don't understand why such a wonderfully successful grant program has suddenly been suspended. Does the CAC no longer care about otherly abled artists? There's been no explanation for why your organization has dropped the program. We in the disability arts community here in California have no other funding opportunities focused on disabled artists, so it isn't a matter of duplicate programs. Do you no longer believe we're worth your support? That's the message you're sending. Please reinstate funding for the Arts and Accessibility grants. At the least, a disability category in your individual and group grant applications would help immensely. We are worth your time, attention, and funding. Thank you.

- Victor Dean

Hello, thank you very much for your time. I am a disabled filmmaker here in Los Angeles. Within the last eight years, I've been physically disabled and thought that I was out of the area or the realm of being able to do filmmaking as a physically disabled filmmaker. My wife pushed me into looking into grants, and the Arts and Accessibility grant was the only one—the only one—that showed up. I was able to receive the grant in March of 2019 in May of 2020. And with the May of 2020 grant, my short film, Mrs. Taylor's Show and Tell: A Prince Story, when I met Prince back in 2001, has made it into three Oscar-qualifying film festivals: Pan African Film Festival, Cleveland International Film Festival, and Santa Barbara Film Festival. With that recognition, I had tons of friends from high school congratulating me, but then I had another batch of people saying, "Hey, I was sexually assaulted in our school, can you please do a short film about what happened to us?" And that's what I want to do, so I would like for the California Arts Council to reinstate the Arts and Accessibility grant so that I can be able to do this. I did recently apply for the independent film grant, that I think the deadline is today, so I did do that. Thank you.

- Corinne Lightweaver

Hello, my name is Corinne Lightweaver. I am in Los Angeles, and I was a recipient of this last NADC and California Arts Council grant. I produced a book, The Psyche's Gifts: Art, Art making and the Journey From Mental Illness to Mental Wellness. I got endorsements for the book both from psychologists and people in that room, as well as artists and writers. This book has been impactful; for me, getting the grant made a huge difference in my sense that this artwork was really important to share. I share it to provoke conversations, personal conversations and public conversations, about mental illness, reduced stigma and to encourage people to find help if they need it. This was really life-changing for me in my career, and I'm very sad to hear that it won't be offered anymore. I know several people who would benefit from this, and it would help them to launch their careers as well. Thank you.

- Bettina Swigger, Downtown SLO

Good afternoon, Council, my name is Bettina Swigger and my pronouns are she/hers. I'm calling in today from San Luis Obispo, California. And I currently serve as the CEO of Downtown SLO, which is a placemaking business association. responsible for economic development and creative placemaking in San Luis Obispo. In my former life, I was the executive director of a performing arts nonprofit, and I've been a recipient of CAC grants and I've also served on CC grant programs. I'm here today because I think there's an opportunity for the California Arts Council to look back at the Cultural Districts program, which started as a pilot program back in 2016-2017. There's a lot of federal money that is coming into various cities and municipal governments for economic development, and I know in our city and San Luis Obispo we're looking at a number of capital improvement projects and public art projects that would definitely qualify us to be an applicant to become a cultural district in the state of California. As we move forward through recovery from the pandemic, I think it's critical that we position arts and cultural organizations and creative industries as essential to the economy, and I would love to see a discussion about bringing back Cultural Districts as a way to kickstart conversation and leverage stimulus money that's coming down from Washington, D.C. Thank you so much for your time.

Written public comment submissions:

- Jacquie Atchison (She/Her/Hers), Arts Council for Monterey County, Monterey County
Is the Organization/Individual a CAC Grantee? State-Local Partner

The arts has been decimated by the pandemic. In Monterey County, our earned revenue is down 93%, workforce has been reduced by 72.5% and our economic output is down by 69%. It will take 10-15 years for recovery and 1/3 of the arts organizations will not survive.

Funders are now prioritizing “critical needs” over the arts. Our largest funder, Hewlett Foundation, stopped funding the arts in Monterey County. We need operating support now, more than ever. Please consider operating support over program support over the next few years of recovery.

We also need the CA Arts Council to help promote that the arts are essential, especially now to help heal our community. Does the Council doing any marketing for the arts? Not just your own grant programs, but to inform our state residents about the arts? That we must ensure all students receive a high quality enriching art education, which is mandated by the state but many schools fail to provide as there is no accountability.

- Lisa Sniderman (She/Her/Hers), Aoede, San Mateo County
Is the Organization/Individual a CAC Grantee? Arts & Accessibility

I am a disabled artist who has benefitted greatly for many years from AAP grant funding, which I used to: 1-create an instrumental score of my original musical (2016); 2-work with a composer to create piano/vocal score (2017); 3-do post production on 40 videos (2018); 4-edit and transcribe 30 video interviews; hire marketing assistant to promote How to Thrive With Chronic Illness virtual summit (2020).

Living with rare chronic illness nearly 13 years, my remaining challenges are continuing to create, connect, be part of community while homebound on limited energy. This grant program provided me crucial funding to implement my artistic projects, and enabled me to feel worth, value, contribution and purpose, despite my illness. Further, without this essential funding 2016-2020, I would have been unable to carry out these projects.

Please reconsider enormous value of this grant funding program (not only monetary) to disabled artists such as myself, and restore AAP funding.

Thank you.

Is the Organization/Individual a CAC Grantee? Youth Arts Action, Local Impact and Artists in Communities grantee

Our organization was a 2020 grantee of the NADC (National Arts & Disability Center) Arts & Accessibility program funded by the CAC, but we recently learned that the CAC Board voted to end the program. In solidarity with the NADC, we would like to request that you reinstate that program and provide them with the funding necessary to continue offering grants in 2021. As a grantee, we received funding to increase the accessibility of our vital Dancing Through Parkinson’s programs. To date, NADC has awarded 327 grants to artists with disabilities and 235 arts organizations. In 2020, the Arts and Accessibility Program reached 95,815 adults, 1,800 children/youth, and 663 artists throughout California. This support is essential for our organizational sustainability and to continue positively impacting this marginalized community. Thank you for your consideration.

- Nahshon Anderson (She/Her/Hers), Los Angeles County

I’ve struggled with PTSD and chronic depression for over two decades due to state and gun violence. NADC has soothed my rage and been instrumental in my book’s journey providing more ammunition for “Shooting Range.” Since 2015, I’ve received four grants from NADC for projects relating to my memoir, “Shooting Range.” I’m a low-income Black Transgender person who experiences racism and discrimination. Grants create much-needed hope. My most recent grant funded a new laptop, creation of a book proposal, and an editor’s hiring. Writing allowed me to reinvent my life after a traumatic upbringing and hate crime assault. My 8-year investment has left me with an intellectual asset. Since 2012, I’ve received over $75K in various forms and in-kind support towards developing and creating “Shooting Range,” which is now being edited. A publisher at Harper Collins has requested to read it, and several literary agents have expressed interest. Please reinstate the NADC grant for those who need it most.

- Karin Reenstierna (She/Her/Hers), Central West Ballet, Stanislaus County
Is the Organization/Individual a CAC Grantee? Arts & Accessibility

Please re-fund the Arts and Accessibility Program for the Nat’l Arts & Disability Center! We are able to hire an ASL Interpreter for our story ballets (Nutcracker, R&J, etc) as we include narration to move the story along and the deaf and hard of hearing community will not be able to enjoy the ballet without that funding!

- Janis Butler Holm (She/Her/Hers), Los Angeles County

Please, please, please reconsider your decision not to fund the Arts and Accessibility grants with the NADC. Though I’ve searched, I’ve not been able to find other grants for disabled artists. We who are otherly abled typically cannot compete with those who do not have our disadvantages. The A & A grants have been a godsend to many in the disability community, enabling us to achieve what would otherwise not be possible. At the least, please provide a disability category among your newly structured options.

- Marya Brennan (She/Her/Hers), National Novel Writing Month, Alameda County
Is the Organization/Individual a CAC Grantee? Arts & Accessibility

The Arts and Accessibility grant allowed us to fund a professional accessibility audit of our entire nanowrimo.org site, which serves hundreds of thousands of people around the globe. In California alone, we help over 13,000 participant write novels in November as part of our flagship event, National Novel Writing Month. We empower over 60 California regional volunteers to build creative community in their cities. Our professional audit identified over 200 accessibility issues with our site, and because of the grant, we’re able to continue working with the company to address the problems. We wouldn’t have been able to do any of that without funding from the Arts and Accessibility grant. It feels like a real shame that disabled people are being deprioritized in the California Arts budget. I hope you find the funding to continue the program in subsequent years.

- Diana Wyenn (She/Her/Hers), Los Angeles County
Is the Organization/Individual a CAC Grantee? Arts & Accessibility

I made a public comment at your last meeting expressing deep concern about suspending the Arts and Accessibility Program facilitated by the NADC at UCLA, and I am extremely disheartened to hear that you are moving ahead. I feel it is worth sharing again in writing that there are almost no other funding opportunities focused on supporting disabled audiences and artists like myself. We make up over 20% of CA’s population, but suffer inequity and bias daily, and don’t often have control over the narratives told about us. Your grant gave us opportunity and agency to share our art, our stories, ideas, concerns, challenges, innovations, and knowledge. You were among the vanguard of the disability justice movement by offering this support. The loss of this grant leaves a void and sets us back. I hope you will consider funding this grant again in future budgets and welcome any discussion about how you can further support our community. Thank you for your time and consideration.

- Bettina Swigger (She/Her/Hers), Downtown San Luis Obispo Business Association, San Luis Obispo County

Thank you to the California Arts Council for your work to support the arts community around the state. I write today to encourage you to relaunch the Cultural District designation program. As our Cities and Counties begin to recover, and federal and state monies are distributed to local governments, there are opportunities to leverage the economic power of arts and cultural activities to send the message that designated Cultural Districts can be a critical force for business retention, recruitment, and for a healthy community where all people can be welcomed. For example, in Downtown San Luis Obispo, in the next five years the city has a major planned development: a parking structure will be built with a site for a nonprofit theatre built into the footprint. In addition, we have a Children's Museum, a History Center, an Art Museum, and a California mission within a quarter of a mile of that site. We would love to apply for this program and encourage you to bring it back.

- Anonymous

Thank you for bringing back the Individual Artist Fellowship. If you continue this granting program in future years, I would encourage you to change the categories. Almost every working artist has had 10+ years of experience. I would consider a legacy artist someone with 30+ years experience. Also, I think it would be much more beneficial to the arts community to give more people $20,000 than only 10 people $50,000.

Also—please note that organizations have great organizing power and are able to help artists tremendously by producing them. So please do not get rid of all of the organizational support.

I appreciate CAC's renewed dedication to equity. However, asking more questions about equity is not what makes a process equitable. In fact, I would argue that this makes the process harder and decreases access.

- Ahmet Ustunel (He/Him/His), San Francisco County

Dear committee members,

I am an artist with disability and a current NADC grantee. NADC supported my first art exhibit about 12 years ago. Thanks to the grant I received I became a well-known potter in the San Diego area. In the following years I was able to attend many exhibits, display my work at different galleries and support myself by selling my work. NADC's funding helped me to turn my longtime hobby into a small business and a lifelong endeavor. I know many artists with disabilities share my experience and thoughts. So please consider NADC's funding as a crucial resource for artists with disabilities and do not cut their budget. The group that will be most affected by this budget cut is the artists with disabilities who usually have very limited access to funding and other resources.

Best,
Ahmet

Is the Organization/Individual a CAC Grantee? State-Local Partner, Local Impact, Creative California Communities, Veterans in the Arts

Greetings from the ancestral land of the Acjachemen Nation and Tongva People. I am pleased to share briefly news of a relatively new program we operate funded by CAC's Creative California Communities program: S/A. Exhibitions Gallery in the recently opened Santa Ana Arts Collective affordable artist housing. Our gallery director is Maurizzio Hector Pineda, and we have presented two exhibitions since opening in July by artists Christian Spruell and Nao Bustamante. On April 8, we open a site-specific installation by Ricardo Rivera. Despite COVID limitations, the gallery has been warmly embraced by the public and by the local arts community. We believe it fulfills the “creative placemaking” intent of the CAC’s CCC Grant Program, a program we hope that CAC will continue to offer in the future. We are most grateful for CAC’s support!

- Anonymous

As a disabled person, I urge the CAC to restore 100% of your funding to the Arts & Accessibility Grants programs! It is absolutely unacceptable that during this pandemic of all times, that you have cut 100% of your funding to the already-tiny grant funding available for Disabled Artists and Programs. Please restore this funding.

- Anonymous

Your new Individual Artist Fellowship grant program categories and funding amounts are very problematic, and are not equitable: “Legacy” artists should be 20+ years, and there should be MORE grants available for Legacy artists than for very new emerging artists (who do not rely on artist income to pay their rent); Established artists should be 10-20 years, and again there should be MORE grants available for Legacy artists than for very new emerging artists (who do not rely on artist income to pay their rent).

- Mark Teshirogi (He/Him/His), The Music Center, Los Angeles County

I’m writing regarding the discontinuation of the Arts and Accessibility Grant, which we received this past year. This grant was helpful in supporting our ongoing program series celebrating the artist accomplishments of children with disabilities by enabling us to hire teaching artists and performers with disabilities. It’s been a difficult for many of our teaching artists, especially those from the disability community, and this was such a welcome opportunity to have them working with students with disabilities who don’t often have the chance to see themselves in performances and in instruction. I’m hoping CAC will reconsider and support funding for this opportunity in the future.

- Jillian Crochet (She/Her/Hers), Alameda County

Please do not cut funding for disabled artists. This is the only grant of this kind in California, that I know of. Disabled people face many hurdles, and as a society we are terribly far from equal rights and inclusion of disabled people. Many buildings are inaccessible and many programs are too. I have referred this grant to organizations who need funding support to make programming accessible. I was also planning on applying myself, this year. These grants are crucial and important. Taking them away is detrimental to equal rights and inclusion!

- Regina Brink (She/Her/Hers), California Council of the Blind, Sacramento County

Thank you for making the meeting agendas and materials on the CAC website accessible. We greatly appreciate your responsiveness to our public comments.

We are still concerned about the barrier to opportunities for blind/low vision actors, directors, writers, producers, and other professional artists in various artistic pursuits. The Arts and Accessibility Program, National Center for Disability and Arts Council, UCLA is currently not being funded by the CAC with no parallel organization being funded to offer opportunities to art professionals who are disabled, and especially those who are blind or have low vision. Although there are accessibility provisions in organizations for blind/low vision audiences, actors, directors, writers, and professional artists have practically no reliable vehicle for funding projects under the current CAC grant allotments. These artists are the most marginalized of disabled professionals. I urge the CAC to remedy this situation without delay.

- Alison O’Daniel (She/Her/Hers), Los Angeles County

As a recipient of a past NADC UCLA grant, this award is incredibly meaningful to me. Before any other organizations were funding Disabled artists, this NADC grant was one of the only options out there. It signaled recognition, care, acknowledgement, and the potential for community. It is important to offer grants to disabled artists because it alleviates at least one of the challenges we face—monetary. Please reconsider the eradication of this grant. In fact, consider growing it, doing outreach to the Disabled art community, fostering vibrant support of us, alongside us! Thank you.

V. Special Election: Council Leadership

At 1:25 p.m., Vice Chair Gonzáles-Chávez explains that after the passing of Council Chair Larry Baza and in consultation with state appointment staff, a special election will be held to determine a Chair to succeed Baza. She introduces staff member Margolis to oversee the voting process.

Margolis expresses the gratitude of Council and staff for Gonzáles-Chávez stepping in as acting Chair in the interim period and acknowledges her willingness to continue in that role. She then opens up the process to Council members to for additional nominees to be considered along with Gonzáles-Chávez. After calling each Council member, no additional nominees are presented for the vote.

Margolis calls for the motion from Council to elect Gonzáles-Chávez as 2021 Council Chair. Moscone moves; Evans seconds. The motion passes 6-0, with Gonzáles-Chávez recusing herself.

Gonzáles-Chávez thanks Council and staff for their support. She calls for Council to nominate members to replace her as Vice Chair.

After calling each Council member, Moscone, Montoya, and Gallegos are nominated. Moscone and Montoya both decline their nominations.

At 1:34 p.m., Margolis then calls for the motion from Council to elect Gallegos as 2021 Council Vice Chair. Moscone moves; Gatti seconds. The motion passes 7-0.

VI. Update on Future Publicly Noticed Programs Policy Committee Meeting(s)

Chair Gonzáles-Chávez provides a brief update on the upcoming grant cycle plan and having open committee work: Council has agreed and adopted in the annual calendar that there will be a scheduled open process work session for September 14 for grant cycle planning, allowing the full Council and the public to participate in policy conversations. She tells Council to prepare by considering its priorities for the 2022 grant cycle, including taking into account public input from recent meetings.

VII. Announcement of Council Committee Assignments

At 1:37 p.m., Chair Gonzáles-Chávez moves to the next agenda item concerning committee assignments:

Gallegos and Montoya will serve on the Equity Committee.

Gallegos and Gonzáles-Chávez will serve on the Executive Committee.

Israel and Moscone will serve on the Governance Committee.

Moscone and Montoya will serve on the Legislative Committee.

Gallegos and Harris will serve on the Programs Allocations Committee.

Evans and Gonzáles-Chávez will serve on the Programs Policy Committee.

Gatti and Israel will serve on the Strategic Framework Committee.

Gallegos asks if someone who is new should sit on the Allocations Committee for when her term ends at the end of the year, since Harris role on the Council is also an extension until additional support from new Council member appointments should happen. González-Chávez agrees that is something to take into consideration.

VIII. Adjournment

At 1:42 p.m., the Chair adjourns the meeting in memory of renowned Sacramento artist Gregory Kondos.

Live public comment (first session):

- Julie Baker

Good morning Council and staff. My name is Julie Baker; my pronouns are she/her/hers, I'm the Executive Director of California for the Arts, and I come to you from the land of the Nevada City Rancheria Nisenan. I just wanted to thank you for the transparency in the program's committee meeting and to encourage continued transparency and communication with the field. We have an awesome opportunity, hopefully, when the budget passes to get a once in a generation investment into the arts culture and creative industries' recovery, and I think it would be really critical to do intentional outreach to the field and the people doing the work in communities who are the experts in areas such as creative youth development core programs, and all the other things that you'll be working on, as you move forward in the field and to really do specific outreach, particularly with the study that you have that shows that there are many communities are not being represented by the grant making. Again I think it's really, really critical that both the Council and the staff do intentional outreach to make sure that those voices are being heard, that they're being lifted up, and that we are utilizing the field as a tool to make sure that, not after the grants are written, but prior to the grant programs being written, that we were really receiving that feedback, so we can be in as much collaboration and in response to what the field needs. I thank you so much for your work and for your time today and appreciate all that you do, thank you.

- Sarah Spinks (she/her)

Hello, good morning, my name is Sarah Spinks, and thank you for giving me an opportunity to speak. I run a very small work arts organization in Vista, California—Southern California—I have a patron or an audience member who encouraged me to call into this meeting today, so forgive me if I don't really understand everything that's going on, but he wanted me to call in because he said there wasn't a lot of people calling in like me, or like my organization. So we run a very small volunteer-based organization, we are really little, but we do a lot of work in our community. And I find grant processes to be very time consuming and challenging limited bandwidth with our organization. Like I said, this is a passion project for me, and I just would want to encourage this Council to make grants or whatever some sort of process that is so easy for people like me, my organization, to access. Funds, small amounts of money, go a really long way with organizations like mine. I was awarded a $500 grant from a women's organization, and we have been cleaning up trash now in our community for five years. We just adopted a highway. Just little things can go a long way, and that's really what I wanted to say. That process to get that small grant was so easy, so please just think about making things easy for people in organizations like mine, thank you.

- Dr. Betz

Good morning, California Arts Council and esteemed board of directors. Thank you for the opportunity to speak before you. I'm Dr. Betz Arroyo; my pronouns are they/them. I am Indigenous Taíno Afro Caribbean and descendant of African slaves, and part of the LGBTQ+ community. I'm also an Air Force veteran. I volunteer for Amador Arts, which is also a small organization. We're a State-Local Partner, where I facilitate that IDEA Advisory Committee, ensuring that the principles of inclusion diversity equity and access are central to every aspect of Amador Arts. I also serve as Secretary on the Amador Arts Board of Directors. Thanks to the State-Local Partner grant, Amador Arts has been able to provide advocacy programs, like the Rural Advocates for Racial Equity, exhibits that amplify the nonhomogenous intercultural truth of the Amador County community, art classes at public schools and community centers, and dozens of other programs and services that uplift and help all people in our community that have access to the arts. In fact, the SLP grant allows Amador Arts to do more than is possible to list in two minutes. The Amador Arts county is a rural community with many people living in remote and unincorporated regions with limited access to the utility services and transportation. The SLP grant brings the universe of the arts to rural youth, families and seniors, many of whom would otherwise have no access to music, dance, theater, poetry, media and visual arts. On behalf of Amador Arts and the Amador County community, we thank you and we ask that you continue to sustain the SLP grant programs, so that all people who are in rural counties throughout California can experience the enriching and healing benefits of the arts.

- Susie Tanner

Good morning, Susie Tanner, I am the founder and director of Theater Workers Project, and I want to thank you this morning, for your ongoing support funding small organizations. It's fantastic that this last grant cycle prioritized small organizations like my own; we have been grantees for many years and have recently just finished a Reentry Through the Arts grant for two different partner organizations. We are also Arts in Corrections contractors at California State Prison in Lancaster. With so many individuals being released from prison and so much need for work in the reentry community, I am making a plea for the Council to consider bringing back the Reentry Through the Arts grant. It has been a fantastic resource for the individuals with whom we work, and the loss of that grant for this coming year has been really tragic, so please do consider bringing it back. I'm coming to you from the Tongva land, with great respect for the work and contributions that those folks have made to the world. Thank you and have a safe day.

Written public comment submissions:

- Danielle Brazell (She/Her/Hers), City of Los Angeles Department of Cultural Affairs, Los Angeles County

On June 4, 2021, I sent a letter to Director Anne Bown-Crawford expressing enthusiasm about the new resources proposed for the CAC in the Governor's FY21-22 May Revise and raised several issues pertaining to the agency's current funding models.

This public comment is submitted to ensure the issues raised in the June 4, 2021 letter are formally addressed. The letter was also sent to each member of the Council.

Given our shared goal to ensure the arts are accessible to all, I invite the CAC to engage in a dialogue with designated Local Arts Agencies serving California cities to develop new funding models that will effectively leverage resources to serve communities throughout the State.

Designing effective and equitable models for resource allocation will garner more support across the State, grow even more resources, and expand equity in the arts for all.

Feel free to contact me at my office: 213-294-8415 or via email: danielle.brazell@lacity.org to discuss further.

Is the Organization/Individual a CAC Grantee? Arts and Accessibility

I am a disabled artist who has benefitted greatly for many years from AAP grant funding, which I used to: 1-create an instrumental score of my original musical (2016); 2-work with a composer to create piano/vocal score (2017); 3-do post production on 40 videos (2018); 4-edit and transcribe 30 video interviews and hire marketing assistant to promote How to Thrive With Chronic Illness virtual summit (2020).

Living with rare chronic illness nearly 13 years, my remaining challenges are continuing to create, connect, be part of community while homebound on limited energy. This grant program provided me crucial funding to implement my artistic projects, and enabled me to feel worth, value, contribution and purpose, despite my illness. Further, without this essential funding 2016-2020, I would have been unable to carry out these projects.

Please reconsider enormous value of this grant funding program (not only monetary) to disabled artists such as myself & restore AAP funding. Thank you!

- Miranda Hernandez (They/Them/Theirs), Orange County

The CAC should fund the arts and accessibility program because people with disabilities are vital to the arts. We deserve to have art grants dedicated to us because we are overlooked in academia and the professional career world despite our wonderful sense of creativity and resilience. I have a mental illness and I was awarded an art grant in 2020. My artwork was about what community means to me and how to find community. I am proud of this accomplishment and I want all people with disabilities to have the same opportunity to apply and be awarded. Before being awarded, I had very low hopes and confidence. I thought I would never be appreciated for my art. I found this opportunity through the CAC website and I was happy that there was such an opportunity. It is difficult to compete with an able-bodied world. People with disabilities deserve to be seen and heard. The CAC funding of the arts and accessibility program is an important step towards change and the end of ableism.

- Jillian (She/Her/Hers), Alameda County

Disabled people MUST be supported! People with disabilities are the largest marginalized group and the most overlooked. They make up 25% of our population. But are often excluded from participation due to our built environment and many other barriers. There is little support for artists with disabilities and their inclusion in the arts. I have been excluded many times, because the non-profit cannot afford accessibility upgrades. I have suggested this grant to organizations and I was hoping to apply myself, for supporting access in workshops. This news is utterly disappointing and disheartening. We need to grow support for disabled folks, not cut funding.

- Laura Brody (She/Her/Hers), Opulent Mobility, Los Angeles County

I am writing to urge you to bring back the arts and accessibility grant. I founded and co-curate Opulent Mobility, an annual exhibit that re-imagines disability as opulent and powerful. Some of the artists I work with have benefited from the arts and accessibility grant directly, and I have been encouraging more organizations to make use of the grants. Accessibility is already a huge problem in California, and organizations need all the help and encouragement they can get to increase access. These grants don't only help disabled artists directly, they also help folks with disabilities all over when programs, events, and artistic endeavors are made accessible through audio description, ASL interpretation, Braille options, and even QR codes linking to descriptions of works.

Please help encourage accessibility. Bring back the arts and accessibility grants.
Thank you.

- Judith Smith (She/Her/Hers), Founder & Director Emerita, AXIS Dance Company, Alameda County

At a time of social justice and equity reckoning and expansion, the CA Arts Council has defunded the only grant program specifically designed to support access for people with disabilities—the Arts and Accessibility Program.

This is unconscionable and infuriating! Funding needs to be INCREASED not eliminated!

- Marisa Hamamoto (She/Her/Hers), Infinite Flow Dance, Los Angeles County
Is the Organization/Individual a CAC Grantee? Local Impact, Youth Arts Action, Arts and Accessibility

Nearly 1 in 4 Californians (23%) have a disability. CAC's Arts and Accessibility program is an essential part of continuing and developing the arts in California. There is already a tremendous lack of accessibility and disability inclusion awareness in most social justice movements, meaning, there are many people with disabilities who are excluded from participating in social justice movements. The arts have the power to change this narrative. CAC's Arts and Accessibility program is a must not a want. Let's bring it back!!

- India Harville (She/Her/Hers), Loving The Skin You Are In, Alameda County
Is the Organization/Individual a CAC Grantee? Arts and Accessibility

The Arts and Accessibility grant is one of few grants geared towards the needs of disabled artists in California and I am so disappointed that it was not funded by CAC this year. I have received it twice and it really helped me advance my career as a disabled dancer and it opened up the doors for me to receive additional funding and recognition. Many disabled artists that I am in community with struggle to find grants that will support some of our unique funding needs including things like paying for attendant support to make our art. In addition, we have unique barriers to participation in the arts because of ongoing systemic ableism within the arts. We are also living with incredible levels of financial disparity. The Art and Accessibility grant demonstrated that these concerns were known and that the CAC was making efforts towards leveling the artistic playing field for disabled artists. I hope that CAC will realize how critical that effort still is and will refund this grant.

- JJ Omelagah (They/Them/Theirs), Alameda County
Is the Organization/Individual a CAC Grantee? Arts and Accessibility

As a multiply-marginalized disabled person (I am black and genderqueer) accessing the world of grants isn't always easy. The Arts and Accessibility grant provided me and other multiply-marginalized disabled folks an accessible way to fund our work. Through funds I received from the grant I was able to offer a concert and able to support creating accessibility not just for myself but also for audience members - including providing ASL, a low scent environment, gender neutral bathrooms, unscented soap, and a quiet space for people who needed to get away from the crowd. Providing accessibility for our community is very expensive and our community often cannot afford ticket prices that reflect the cost of those services. The Arts and Accessibility grant is one way multiply-marginalized disabled artists at an economic disadvantage have been able to provide access for our communities. Please fund it again!

Is the Organization/Individual a CAC Grantee? State-Local Partner, Veterans in the Arts, Local Impact, Creative California Communities

Greetings, Council Chair & Members,

For 12 years, the CAC's budget allocation was stuck at $1 million. Those were dismal times for our state arts agency which once had a peak of $32M. Over the past 7 years, through the vigorous advocacy efforts of Californians for the Arts/California Arts Advocates, CAC's funding grew to $26M, and it appears that it will now experience an exponential increase in the new budget. From the all-volunteer efforts of these advocacy organizations until the more recent hiring of its dynamic executive director Julie Baker (who Americans for the Arts last week honored with an award for her leadership in our collective success), this is a watershed moment for CAC—and an important piece of history for Council Members and Staff to know about. As a Past President of these organizations, I want to make sure that you understand how hard we have worked to secure these resources and to restore them from nearly nothing to today's level. And we will continue to do so.

- Jacquie Atchison (She/Her/Hers), Arts Council for Monterey County, Monterey County

Is the Organization/Individual a CAC Grantee? State-Local Partner

The arts sector needs unrestricted operating support to recover from this pandemic. Arts4MC is very experienced with re-granting to over 100 arts nonprofits in our community. With this new influx of funding, please move quickly to distribute the funds to the SLPS so we can support the most vulnerable, yet viable arts organizations in our state. Thank you!

- Fran Osborne (She/Her/Hers), Tuolumne County

I was so sad to learn that the CAC had stopped its funding for artists with disabilities. If the organization is truly committed to DEAI (originally Inclusion meant Disability Inclusion) then it will not only reinstate its funding but also substantially increase it. Employment of people with disabilities is pitifully low in the arts sector and anything the CAC can do to raise the profile of the disability community and truly include them in the work of the arts sector will have a significant impact on many peoples' lives. I'm sure dollar for dollar the impact is significant in comparison to other funding. Please reconsider your priorities for the next funding cycle and prioritize access and disability as part of the whole DEAI conversation.

- Zahna Simon (She/Her/Hers), Urban Jazz Dance Company, San Francisco County

At a time of social justice and equity reckoning and expansion, the CA Arts Council has defunded the only grant program specifically designed to support access for people with disabilities. The past support of this program has been an amazing support and I believe it should be geared more towards giving funding to Disabled and Deaf leaders for their organizations and communities.

Funding needs to be INCREASED not eliminated! In both 2019 and 2020, the program received so many applications that it ran out of funding within 6 months. This is a huge indicator that more funding is needed.

- Carmen Jovel (They/Them/Theirs), Alameda County

Please adequately fund programs for the most disenfranchised communities across CA and prioritize Black and Indigenous peoples. It is important that you appoint Black, Indigenous, and People of Color who are artists and cultural workers to the Arts Council. It is only that way that our communities will get access to the arts that they have historically been separated from.

- Julia Fister (She/Her/Hers), Studio ACE, San Diego County

Is the Organization/Individual a CAC Grantee? Arts and Accessibility

Hi, I am just very disappointed that there will be no money for Arts And Accessibility this year. If there is any way you could change your mind, I believe it is so important for this population to have access to the Arts! Thank you for your consideration!

- Eve Lynne, Alameda County

I have been a recipient of this grant for many years. It has helped me in many ways. Without this grant I can not continue to have my annual art shows where I sale my work.

I'm disappointed that this needed program has been shut down. This is not a correct decision and many of us will suffer. Please reconsider the many lives this will effect.

- Pete Eckert, Blind Photographers Guild, Sacramento County

Hello my name is Pete Eckert. I'm the founder of the Blind Photographers Guild. I'm a totally blind person and part of the Blind Photographers Movement. The grants we have received from the National Arts and Disability Center, Tarjan Center have enabled us to compete and find a place in the world, specifically grants to be able to show and produce work. Without these grants opportunities would not have been as accessible.

When first starting into photography the CA Arts Commission awarded me $5000. This award was instrumental in my success. Without this funding I would not have been able to start the Bind Photographers Guild. With the funds above I've been able to help other blind photographers; Bruce Hall, Alice Wingwall, and Kurt Weston. Each of these artists have found success and are part of the emerging Blind Photographers Movement. That we have been included now in art history books, indicates the power of these grants and funding.

- Robert Ott (He/Him/His), Individual Gay Disabled Artist, Sonoma County

Is the Organization/Individual a CAC Grantee? Arts and Accessibility

Good day California Arts Council Members,

Thank you for reading and listening to my comments on the need for continued funding support for all of the vital grant programs that you provide, but there is a unique and critical need to restore funding for the Arts and Accessibility grant programs with the National Arts and Disability Center at UCLA for disabled individual artists and those organizations that support disabled artists a focus.

As 2020 winner of the Individual Artist award, I can assure you, that for disabled artists on a fixed income and those limited by Social Security and other benefit program rules, this particular grant was critical to production and release of my premiere recording and compositional effort. Without it, my debut CD would not have been produced and made available to a wider audience late last year. Others in the community are also hired to support artists.

I urge you to restore 2022 funding to UCLA National Arts and Disability grants.

Is the Organization/Individual a CAC Grantee? State-Local Partner, JUMP StArts, Creative California Communities, Poetry Out Loud, CARES

Dear CAC,

The significance of the SLP Program not only funding, but also bidirectional information exchange between local arts orgs, communities they serve, and the state, cannot be overstated.

We thank the CAC for acknowledging and addressing systems of racial injustice and for encouraging SLPs to learn, grow and create foundations to do this important work. SLPs are boots on the ground in 54 counties. In Santa Barbara County, CAC support helped to create the opportunity for us to work on systems change within our government structure. We've been able to expand the paradigm for arts support, including developing new policy and $75K in new governmental arts pass-through funding for coalitions of/by/for communities of color. In this program Santa Barbara County designated $270K in community-led regranting funds to support equity. We shared CAC's Racial Equity Statement with County leadership to help develop a County Racial Equity Statement. Thanks for leading this important work.

- Alexandra Urbanowski (She/Her/Hers), Silicon Valley Creates, Santa Clara County
Is the Organization/Individual a CAC Grantee? State-Local Partner

SVCreatives is the CAC's SLP for Santa Clara County. For 30 years we have provided funding & other resources to our local arts community. We leverage CAC funding to raise additional local government & private funds to provide grants to over 80 small local arts groups. In F21 we granted over $700,000 to these groups, including a significant increase in resources directed to BIPOC groups. We recently completed a grantee perception survey by the Center for Effective Philanthropy & received high satisfaction ratings on our responsiveness to grantees, the ease of our application process, & the impact our support makes in the community. Over the past year we have convened grantees in roundtables to hear directly from them how we can continue to serve them - our Folk & Traditional Arts roundtable is one of our most active. We encourage the CAC to expand its partnership with the SLP's & use us & our deep relationships with local arts organizations to increase the impact of CAC's work.

Is the Organization/Individual a CAC Grantee? State-Local Partner

I am writing today to express my sincere thanks for the partnership program that exists between the CA Arts Council and the arts organizations that serve as a state and local partners across the state. My organization is the designated arts council for my county and we are a proud to serve in this unique, vital capacity. The recent opportunity to help re-grant CARES funding in our region helped us identify and work with two dozen more organizations that we also now work with to apply for CAC grants that they haven't felt eligible for in past years; this kind of direct outreach and relationship building is something that CAC needs support with county by county. SLPs serve this role. Additionally, Arts Connection is a vital San Bernardino County partner agency, as we are invited into county steering committees to work across departments in public health, education and economic development. No other nonprofit arts organizations in our region serve in this capacity.

- Devi Peacock (They/Them/Theirs), Peacock Rebellion, Alameda County
Is the Organization/Individual a CAC Grantee? Organizational Development, Artists and Communities, Statewide Regional Networks

Thank you so much to council for all the hard work it took to create this racial equity manager position. And to CAC staff for hiring an artist who really demonstrates leadership in this area. That training was outstanding and really powerful. The members of the regional network that we anchor want to emphasize how important it is for the demographics of who serves on council to reflect the demographics of California's historically underrepresented communities. Please actively recruit more BIPOC artists to bring their unique wisdom to advance council's racial equity goals. Thank you so much for your leadership.

- Talia Fradin (She/Her/Hers; They/Them/Theirs), Alameda County

Katherin's training was so useful I feel to both the council and to my own learning. Moving forward I will definitely be applying it to my work spaces. I'm grateful to live in a state where the arts council is taking steps towards racial equity. To that end, it's really important to recruit BIPOC artists to serve on council. Racial equity is about not just who is underrepresented but also who is over represented. It might be useful to consider whether there is an over representation of white men on this council. Thank you.

- Gloria Oster (She/Her/Hers), California Lawyers for the Arts, Los Angeles County

California Lawyers for the Arts is a statewide arts service organization that provides legal support, alternative dispute resolution services, educational programs and advocacy for the arts community. We have recently been awarded a grant from the NEA to implement a pilot creative workforce development project in San Diego for formerly incarcerated individuals who have found their rehabilitation through CAC-supported arts in corrections. The program will provide meaningful employment with arts organizations and a path to economic self-sufficiency. With our history of advocacy for California's stellar arts in corrections program, we are eager to continue to do our part to help reduce recidivism and develop the next step for people who have benefited from arts programs while incarcerated. We are hopeful that the Council will help to support this program so that we may replicate and scale the program throughout the state.

- Dr. Victor Torres (He/Him/His), Fresno State's Los Danzantes de Aztlan/World Arts West Board Member, Fresno County

Dear Council Members,

I was fortunate enough to attend the morning session and catch Katherin's Racial Equity presentation. Since the CAC requires grant submissions to have a Racial Equity Statement, I applaud the Council for leading by example. Incorporating a Racial Equity Manager demonstrates that the CAC is serious about adopting a "systems thinking approach" in its funding processes to achieve racial equity in the arts. Too often, equity statements lack substance and are nothing more than mere window dressing. I commend the Council for recognizing the intrinsic value of racial equity, especially when there is an active effort to demonize it. Congratulations to Katherin for her insightful and informative presentation—well done!

- Catherine Herrera (She/Her/Hers), San Francisco County

Please re-fund NADC, their impact is so important. My career began as a news and documentary producer/director, but in 2008, during a routine blood draw, the needle went into my major right arm nerve and by the next day, I could not feel my legs, the beginning of mobility challenges that resulted in a rare condition without a cure. Despite the traumatic and financial challenges, I am fortunate invitations for commissions and exhibits still came. Being an artist, and having the public engage with my art, hearing how my art transforms audiences, IS Life Saving. Despite those opportunities, I was unable physically to work enough to afford professional equipment upgrades so I could expand my professional assignments. The NADC grant opened a door that was closed previously and I am beyond grateful. The CAC investment has multiplied in impact. There are so few organizations like NADC, and their loss will be great. Please do not end funding, your investment goes far beyond just the grant.

VI. Racial Equity Training

At 10:21 a.m., Race & Equity Manager Katherin Canton provides Council with a training session on definitions of white supremacy culture, some anti-racism practices, and how systems thinking (using the Iceberg Model) can be a tool toward achieving the CAC racial equity action plan.

Council thanks Canton for their informative session. Gonzáles-Chávez encourages Council members to consider the training's lessons as they move forward in their committee work.

Harris remarks on the approach of kindness and grace as a model Council needs to pay attention to in their work.

Moscone encourages Council to consider the Iceberg Model as an added benefit and increased relevance to the decision support tool of the strategic framework. Montoya agrees with finding additional entry points to make the support tool more nuanced and nimble.

Gallegos felt strengthened by the presentation, and says that the progress of the Council and the efforts made toward equity work has helped her feel a sense of belonging and given her more courage to speak up and be heard as a Council member.

VII. Committee Updates

At 11:36 a.m., Chair Gonzáles-Chávez moves to the next agenda item concerning committee updates.

a) Programs Policy Committee

Evans provides an overview of the Policy Committee memo on behalf of the committee members, regarding grant program funding considerations.

Kiburi wanted to inform Council and the public that the different grant cycles and timelines suggested are flexible.

Montoya asks about what sources can be used to inform Council's decision making regarding what grants have been most successful and what the historic learnings and outcomes has been. Kiburi responds that some of that information can be provided by the ongoing evaluation. Additional information and data could be considered to be added on as asks for final reports in the future, which Council will have an opportunity to weigh in on in their committee work and broad Council discussion.

She adds that the agency will be expanding its research capacity and filling an in-house research position to develop a research model and create stronger data sets to be provided to Council.

Gallegos asks about when Council will weigh in on guidelines. Chair Gonzáles-Chávez says that should be coming in September committee work sessions and be brought before Council for a vote in October.

Montoya asks about the Equity Committee making recommendations regarding guidelines. Chair Gonzáles-Chávez responds that they would have the ability to inform the Programs Policy Committee regarding guidelines during a public meeting discussion.

Gallegos reinforces that all committees that have recommendations regarding guidelines should be informing the Programs Policy Committee of those suggested changes. Chair Gonzáles-Chávez reiterates that those recommendations need to be made during a public meeting. Kiburi agrees that the work of the committees in increasingly blurred and that calls for discussions to take place at full Council meetings.

Chair Gonzáles-Chávez suggests readying any discussion items from each committee to be brought forth for a larger discussion slated as an agenda item during the August Council meeting.

Harris reminds Council that the increase of grant programs and allocation amounts is increasing significantly from one cycle to another, and Council will need to work quickly and efficiently.

b) Allocations Committee

Gallegos explain that a detailed presentation for Council will be put together when the budget is finalized.

c) Equity Committee

Montoya tells Council that the committee has been meeting consistently and looking at the decision support tool to guide and create a timeline to set processes in motion to provide recommendations and follow the right procedure publicly. Kiburi shares that Montoya and Gallegos gave significant input to the data presentation that will be provided by Programs staff later in the meeting.

d) Legislative Committee

Montoya provides an overview of the Legislative Committee memo on behalf of the committee members, regarding budget updates.

At 12:02 p.m., the Council takes a break. Gonzáles-Chávez calls the Council back to order at 1:04 p.m.

VIII. Governance Committee Discussion

Israel leads a Council discussion regarding time management of meetings based on the suggested memo items, which include clarifying agenda items and outcomes, stronger meeting facilitation, on-topic public comment, stronger roles adopted by Council members, and a return to physical meetings in the near future.

Margolis adds that a heavier reliance on Robert's Rules will help Council to process check and run tighter meetings. She also mentions that a return to physical meetings is a point of discussion for Council to consider how they feel about it, the range of the sense of safety across various communities, etc.

Gatti asks for clarification regarding public comment. He mentions that members of the public come simply to have a presence or speak to topics that aren't up for a vote or discussion. He suggests perhaps closing the meeting with public comment rather than having it near the beginning, and potentially opening up smaller comment periods for vote-specific items at the time of the vote.

Kiburi adds that the training from the Bagley-Keene attorneys clarified that all discussions and votes are intended for a public forum for public comment. Currently, the CAC's solution for that was to provide two opportunities for public comment at the beginning and the end of the meeting, but a potential adjustment to open up for public comment after each item is a possibility.

González-Chávez suggests that on-topic public comment come along with each specific item and general comment is reserved for a larger public comment session toward the end of the meeting.

Gallegos reiterates the notion that public comments often don't fit the specific meeting's agenda, but explains that the logic behind having sessions in the morning or afternoon is meant to accommodate members of the public that perhaps cannot attend at a certain time due to work conflicts or other time conflicts. She applauds the idea of clarifying each item's goals and determining actions items and next steps.

Harris also supports the idea of an item-by-item comment period along with general comment periods.

Moscone tells Council that the recommendation would be to have a combination of agenda-specific and generalized comments included in the schedule.

Gallegos worries about limiting on-topic comments only to that moment of the Council meetings schedule, that it is a big ask to expect members of the public to understand that level of detail or be available according to that timeline. González-Chávez agrees, but thinks a hybrid could be ideal to be available to the public and to best inform the Council as they make decisions.

Gallegos asks to see the decision support tool work from the Governance Committee regarding their recommendations.

Council talks about the lack of response to public comment as a barrier that can give out of touch and stoic optics to those in attendance, and that some dialogue could be beneficial to change that perception and to better inform Council decision-making.

Gallegos supports a return to physical meetings by fall or winter in order to learn more about the field by being out in the field. She says Council should still continue a hybrid model so that meetings are recorded and public comment can still be submitted without being in-person.

González-Chávez reminds that planning for in-person meetings is a time-consuming process, and that if Council is considering a return to that format, staff needs plenty of notice about that timeline in order to prepare and find locations.

Moscone asks for guidance to help staff to consider next steps to resume in-person meetings. Harris reminds that prior to COVID, in-person meetings were mandated, and that likely the Governor's office will have some input. Kiburi says that the agency is waiting on more information from the Governor's office about future meetings, but that it will likely return to requirements similar to what existed prior to COVID. She also reminds Council that Bagley-Keene, as a rule, is never efficient, that efficiency is not a goal when you are considering accessibility at all levels and making decisions about public funds.

González-Chávez says that the Governance Committee will take the feedback from the Council during this discussion to make final recommendations to bring before the Council at a later date.

IX. Presentation: Program Data

CAC staff Mariana Moscoso and Josy Miller deliver a presentation to Council regarding demographic and other identifier composition of the boards and staffs of grantee organizations from the last three cycles (FY2017-2019).

Moscone asks about how the data for internal organization demographics compares to the demographics of the communities served. Miller responds that that data is forthcoming from the grant programs evaluation team during the Council's July meeting.

Gallegos asks about demographic categories' origins, to which Moscoso responds that the presentation's data comes from the NEA's category sets.

Montoya asks staff about takeaways in reviewing these results. Miller talks about the key changes to this round of final reports—demographic information is now required as opposed to optional; language as to the reasoning of making that data a requirement was included, mentioning the agency's equity goals; and organizations were asked to have staff and boards self-report/identify to get a more accurate picture of their demographics.

Moscoso adds that nonbinary was expanded to include transgender as an identifier in order to make the trans community more visible within that general marker.

Gallegos asks about the demographics for SLP and SRN grantees. González-Chávez asks if those subsets can be extracted from the overall data provided at this meeting to address this question; Kiburi confirms that is possible.

X. Preparation for 2022 Grant Season Planning

González-Chávez reminds Council of the timeline for the three-year plan for future grant cycles, directing Council to a previous presentation during the February 25 Council meeting. The 2022 season will have two grant cycles, as presented earlier in the meeting by the Programs Policy Committee. Following that, each year will have a single grant cycle. The goal of this plan is to align with the fiscal year and budget season to streamline the grantmaking calendar and its allocations.

XI. Public Comment

Public comment was submitted via an online form which opened on June 12, 10 days prior to the meeting, and closed the morning following the meeting's end at 10 a.m. Live public comment was also heard during the meeting.

Live public comment (second session):

- Kebo Drew

I'm back, just wanted to say hello, and I have two comments, particularly around the governance, as well as the data question. I'm going to start with data. It's really important, and again, equity and justice demand understanding how data methodology can reinforce white supremacy culture. So, in looking at the data, understanding that Latinx is an ethnicity, but also that there are Afro Latino or Afro Latinx people, as well as gente indigena is really, really important. It's also important to note that population is a result of policy, so by not examining the marginalization factors that affect Native American/American Indian populations, we end up with a skewed view of what it takes to create equity. Also, that means that we need to understand, not just who's serving on a board, who is actually the staff, but also the constituency, because not everyone has experience with collecting that data and actually listening to the people that they serve. So if we're looking at BIPOC communities, it is very important that the organization is run on the board and staff level by people of color, BIPOC communities, as well as who they're serving and their ability to serve. One of the comments that was made was by providing extra technical support for equity for larger organizations that actually unfairly penalizes smaller BIPOC-led organizations, so just wanted to point that out to ensure that the data actually leads towards equity and is not just going to the largest number population. As far as governance, it is really important to maintain accessibility of California Arts Council meetings, even when we go back to in-person meetings, the access that disabled communities have had is really important to maintain. Thank you.

XII. Future Agenda Items

At 3:01 p.m., Gonzáles-Chávez calls for any future agenda items from Council members. Kiburi tells Council that the aggregated SLP and SRN data will be provided at the August meeting.

Montoya mentions the recommendations from the Governance Committee as an added item and asks about how to assist with encouraging new Council member appointments.

Margolis tells Council that a budget update will be provided at the July meeting.

XIII. Adjournment

Gonzáles-Chávez closes the meeting by acknowledging the lives lost due to COVID-19.

At 3:09 p.m., the Chair adjourns the meeting.

TAB D

California Arts Council | Public Meeting | 08/25/2021

Date: August 25, 2021
To: Council Members
From: Allocations Committee: Donn Harris and Kathy Gallegos
Re: Recommendations for Revision of 2021 Grant Allocations

The Programs Allocation Committee recommends Council approve revised allocations totaling $26,613,900 for the slate of 2021 grant programs including Arts and Cultural Organizations General Operating Relief, Impact Projects, JUMP StArts, Statewide and Regional Networks, Administering Organization- Relief for Individual Artists and Cultural Practitioners, and Individual Artist Fellowships (projected with final vote in September).

Since Council voted on the awards for organizational grant funding in July, both Council members and staff have received ongoing communication from the field regarding the harm that would be caused by releasing such a small amount of funding in the middle of the ongoing pandemic. The Allocations Committee has continued to convene and has worked with staff to build a set of revised allocation recommendations.

The revised allocation recommendations accomplish a number of critical goals for the Council:

- They double the number of arts organizations and individual artists receiving grants from the CAC this year. Especially given the ongoing reality of the pandemic, artists and arts organizations cannot wait an entire calendar year to have access to these funds. Hundreds of small organizations whose applications were ranked 5 (“Strong”) were not funded in the original allocation. All these organizations will receive at least 80% of their request amounts in the revised scenarios.
- They significantly prioritize funding for small organizations. Almost all of the recommended increases in funding would go to support small, economically vulnerable organizations. As the Council is fully aware, these are the organizations most at risk for closure or halting of programming due to COVID-19.
- Increasing support for small organizations increases support for BIPOC-led and BIPOC-serving organizations. As Council has seen from analysis of our 2017-2019 grantee organizations, the staffs and boards of smaller organizations are significantly more demographically representative of the state of California than their larger counterparts.

By prioritizing funding to smaller organizations, the agency is taking a direct action to protect the diversity of the arts ecosystem across the state.

Given these outcomes, the Programs Allocations Committee strongly recommends that Council consider approving one of the two revised allocation scenarios:

Grant Name	Current Allocation	Total Current Grantees (Small, Large)	% of Total Allocation	Revised Scenario 1	% of Total Allocation	Scenario 1 Description	Total Grantees with Revision (Small, Large)	Revised Scenario 2	% of Total Allocation	Scenario 2 Description	Total Grantees with Revision (Small, Large)
General Operating Relief for Arts and Cultural Organizations	$7,430,057	270 (177, 93)	52%	$13,948,818	50%	6s @ 100%, 5s @ 95%	546 (455, 93)	$13,591,134	50%	6s @ 100%, 5.4s @ 95%, remaining 5s @ 90%	546 (455, 93)
Impact Projects	$1,466,865	91 (68, 23)	11%	$4,156,514	15%	6s @ 100%, 5s @ 95%	297 (274, 23)	$3,747,622	14%	6s @ 100%, 5.4s @ 95%, remaining 5s @ 80%	297 (274, 23)
JUMP StArts	$774,240	18 (12, 6)	5%	$1,735,580	6%	6s and 5s @ 100%, 4s @ 90%	37 (31, 6)	$1,665,079	6%	6s and 5s @ 100%, 4s @ 80%	37 (31, 6)
Statewide and Regional Networks	$ 1,913,850	60	13%	$2,525,849	9%	6s @ 100%, 5s @ 95%, 4s @ 90%	83	$2,525,849	9%	6s @ 100%, 5s @ 95%, 4s @ 90%	83
Administering Organization for Rapid Relief to Individual Artists and Cultural Practitioners	$1,361,875	1	9.5%	$ 2,123,500	8%	Increase total regranting and administration award by 56%	1	$2,542,000	9.4%	Almost doubling total regranting and administration award	1
Individual Artist Fellowships	$1,361,875	140	9.5%	$2,123,500	8%	Increase total allocation by 56%	280	$2,542,000	9.4%	Almost double total allocation	280
TOTAL:	$14,308,762	201		$26,613,761			364	$26,613,684			364

This scenario would increase the already approved award to applicants ranked a 5.33 from 90% of request to 95% of request.

Strengthening arts, culture, and creative expression as the tools to cultivate a better
California for all.

Decision Support Tool: 2021 Program Year Allocations with Budget Category Differentiation

Programs Allocation Committee

Committee Members: Kathy Gallegos, Donn K. Harris
Staff Support: Anne Bown-Crawford, Ayanna Kiburi, Josy Miller
Committee Meetings: July 7, 2021; July 13, 2021
Full Council Electronic Meeting: July 20, 2021

Clearly state the desired action and its high-level expected benefit:

In keeping with one of the aspirations identified in the California Arts Council's Strategic Framework "Creative Impact," specifically that the Council focus on small organizations, the Programs Allocation Committee is recommending that we allocate funds for the 6 grant programs utilizing a formula that separates small budget organizations (<$250K) from large budget organizations (>$250K) in order to ensure we are meeting this priority.

Grant programs were offered to the field in configurations that can be viewed in the attached worksheets, with a late NEA addition (American Rescue Program funds) for the General Operations category. The Committee also recommends allocating $12,000,000 from the 2021 budget to these programs, bringing the total funds we can allocate to $26,613,900.

NOTE: The actual fiscal and programmatic recommendation will be in the memo and attachments accompanying this descriptive tool.

Basic Capacity

Timeline: What is the desired timeline for this action? To be ready for August 25 council meeting, the recommendation and narrative must be ready by August 18.

Tier I. Staffing, Partners, and Funding:

What is required to fully support this action – staffing, partners, and funding? Are all three available during the desired timeline? We have the funding, the panels have scored the grants, and this is grant season, nothing unexpected here. There will be labor on the part of staff to message the field regarding change in award decisions. There will also be significant staff labor involved in processing almost double the number of grants this fall.

Is there an opportunity to acquire staffing, partners, and/or funding? CAC staff leadership is in the process of hiring multiple permanent positions that will support this work.

Is there a lesser priority from which staff and/or funding can be redirected? NA

If the timeline is adjusted, will staffing, partners, and/ or funding be available?
No, this is time sensitive, must be accomplished ASAP.

If the timeline is adjusted, will there be an adverse impact? Yes, in the field, highly adverse.
From where can resources of staffing, partners and/ or funding be redirected to cause a lesser impact? NA

Based on the responses, evaluate whether the action should move to Tier 2. YES

Tier 2. Public Input and Impact

Who is expected to benefit from this action? The field, specifically smaller arts organizations. This action will double the number of organizations receiving grants from the CAC this year.

What might be the unintended consequences/ drawbacks from this action? This action will reduce the amount of budget carryover for the next granting cycle and will align the agency's fiscal year and program year by 2023. This is prudent in terms of accounting best practices; however, from this point forward, Council allocation decisions will be largely or entirely contingent upon the approved State budget.

Has there been an opportunity for input on this action from:

Those potentially impacted in the field. Yes, through commentary, participation in meetings. Staff and Council members have also received a large volume of communication regarding the harm that a gap year of funding would cause, especially given the context of the pandemic.

Those potentially impacted as community members: council, staff, partners, funders (specifically, to what extent are other funders involved in meeting this need), elected officials?

We have operated from general guidelines given by elected officials. No other funders involved.

At the local level, does this action:

Promote ownership? Yes

Build capacity? Yes

Align CAC values? These grants are from the creative inspiration of the artists and arts orgs themselves, so they are aligned with all CAC values. Ownership and capacity-building are enhanced. Small organizations are given significantly greater priority than in the original allocation. The allocation formulas also follow historical agency practice by maintaining award percentages for whole number categories, rather than breaking categories down to decimals.

Beyond the local level, does this action:

Leverage resources? NA

Cultivate partnership? NA

Grow awareness of the CAC? Yes

Address root causes of inequity? By focusing on small orgs., we are attempting to address equity issues. There is a strong indication that smaller orgs. are more representative of the diversity of the State.

Instill faith in government transparency, accountability, and stewardship? If correctly presented and managed, yes. We are at a key juncture at this moment, making bold and decisive moves to address inequity and follow our Strategic Framework. In responding to the clear, vocal demonstration of need from the field, the agency has the opportunity to account for the potential harm that could have been caused by withholding these funds.

Align with or expand on the priorities of the Governor and the State of California? Yes.

Demonstrate innovation? Yes, in the funding model, highly innovative and thoughtful. This action also demonstrates innovation and leadership in a state agency being willing to pivot drastically in order to respond to the needs of its constituents.

Position CAC as a national or international leader? Yes, again in the funding model.

Based on the responses, evaluate whether the action should move to Tier 3. YES

Tier 3. Equity Alignment

Has research been conducted to identify best practices for racial equity? Yes, to the degree that we know the smaller orgs. are a more diverse group.

If it is appropriate to conduct a Racial Equity Impact Assessment (see Appendix C), what is the timeline and staffing? NA

Will this action disadvantage: Small organizations? Certain regions of the state? Potential beneficiaries with disabilities? Potential beneficiaries who communicate in languages other than English? Potential beneficiaries who face social stigma, trauma, and/or safety concerns? Potential beneficiaries with fewer technological resources and/or expertise? If yes to any, what adjustments or accommodations could be made to offset the disadvantage?

Equity Narrative: There are many facets to building a sustainable, effective equity culture in a State as large and diverse as California. The arts also have their own particular history of challenges in representing the people of the State equitably. This allocations initiative for the first time breaks arts organizations into groups based on budget size and there is strong indication that by prioritizing smaller orgs. we will be reaching more deeply into places in the State that more equitably represent the population as a whole. It is key that the results are analyzed and that each year this can be refined to more effectively serve the people of California. In responding to the questions above, part of the follow-up should be to look into the groups that are specified as underrepresented to see what challenges they may have faced participating in any of these programs.

Based on the responses, evaluate whether the action should move to Tier 4. YES.

Tier 4. Equity Alignment

Note: This unusual year and funding model was discussed on many occasions publicly and we had robust input at Council meetings. These recommendations are in part based on input we received from the public, with equity one of the primary drivers of the small-organization priority.

Prior to calling for a vote:

Was the item open for discussion at a prior council meeting? YES.

Were council members able to forward their unresolved questions or concerns to the appropriate committee for research and recommendations? YES.

Were those unresolved questions or concerns considered at a committee meeting that was open to the public? YES.

Was a public input period offered online or through alternative means for those who could not access a meeting? YES.

If the vote passes, move to Tier 5.

Tier 5. Post Decision Considerations

For this action, what is the council's role?

For this action, what is staff's role?

Is there a committee or working group to which this action should be assigned or be created?

Communication Once the decision has been made, decide how the decision and progress on the action (if applicable) will be communicated to: •

Those potentially impacted in the field

Those potentially impacted as community members:

Council, Staff, Partners, Funders, Elected Officials

How will we know if the expected benefit is achieved?

How will we know if anyone is better off?

How will the public be engaged in evaluative efforts?

What are the key benchmarks that would indicate satisfactory progress on this action?

What is the reporting mechanism for progress?

What is the support mechanism if progress is stalled?

Recommendation of the Allocations Committee: (also see Data Sheets)

In support of equitable distribution of funding available to enhance the arts in California and to keep arts organizations viable, we recommend the Council adopt the funding model as presented, with the awareness that statistical evidence suggests strongly that our equity efforts have begun to move the needle. Whether this is fully true or not needs to be examined annually and case studies may be a good tool to augment the statistical data so that we can ensure our changes are reaching the artists of California.

From: CAC Programs Policy Committee

Re: Recommendations to Adjust the Fiscal Sponsor IRS 990 and Matching Requirements

The Programs Policy Committee recommends that the Council vote to eliminate the Fiscal Sponsor IRS 990 form from the grant application for fiscally sponsored organizations and implement a matching requirement for grantees awarded a general operating grant with total operating revenues at or above $1 Million.

The Programs Committee recommends that the Council vote to roll-out the slate of grant programs as outlined in the 2022 Grants Program table included in this memo.

Purpose

The CAC Programs Policy committee met several times since the last Council meeting to discuss the Fiscal Sponsor IRS 990 form and Matching Fund requirements. The purpose of this memo is to provide recommendations for reducing barriers in the California Arts Council (CAC) grant application process, per the Aspirations of the CAC's Strategic Framework as it pertains to two policies: Fiscal Sponsor IRS 990 and Matching Funds.

Fiscal Sponsor IRS 990 Form

Background

One of the main goals of the CAC's Strategic Framework is to:

Reduce barriers to accessing CAC funds, programs, and meetings by examining and addressing Council and agency policies [...].

And the CAC's Racial Equity Statement includes:

Policies, programs, and activities will be administered to identify and avoid discrimination and barriers to access, and to avoid disproportionately high and adverse effects on communities of color.

The above statements acknowledge that the barriers of some of our policies present disproportionately affect small and BIPOC-led organizations

Currently, the CAC requires a Fiscal Sponsor's IRS 990 in a grant application, the assumption is that through reviewing that form, the CAC can verify that the Fiscal Sponsor is legitimately a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization, and it affords panelists a tool to assess the fiscal health of the sponsor.

The CAC implemented a new IRS check of Fiscal Sponsors in our grants management system, making it no longer necessary to confirm the Fiscal Sponsor is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization and the requirement of organizations who are being fiscally sponsored to submit their sponsor's IRS 990 form unnecessary. Eliminating this requirement reduces the amount of additional supplemental materials needed for a grant application. Anecdotal evidence from previous grant review panelists also suggests that the IRS 990 form is not accessible as a means for assessing the Fiscal Sponsor's fiscal health as it was intended.

Matching Funds Requirement

Background

The CAC 2022 General Fund Budget included a requirement that $10 Million of the Local Assistance funds be matched.

The following is included in the CAC's Strategic Framework as an aspiration for the agency:

Action

Create a more accessible grant process as it pertains to the match requirement. In examining this requirement, conduct research on how other funders are lowering the threshold for participation while maintaining the benefits of a match where appropriate.

Root Cause Rationale

Smaller organizations are daunted by the match requirement that still exists for some CAC programs. This requirement limits who can successfully apply, widening the gap between those organizations with greater capacity to grow and sustain themselves and disadvantaged organizations in communities that do not have abundant funding resources.

Supplemental Data

A study by Atlantic Philanthropies found that a match was helpful only to some grantees. In the Nonprofit Finance Fund's "Addressing Racially Biased Financial Analysis" they suggest that matching funds exacerbate injustice citing organizations that do not have a match already may "expend a lot of energy and worry in the process" without having access to "wealthy donors and it is not a realistic ask of their supporters."

This committee suggests that a strategy to meet this year's matching requirement include:

1. Reduce the total amount to be matched ($10 million) by using any non-state funds to meet part of the match.
2. Implement a tiered matching requirement for grantees awarded a general operating grant (including Arts and Cultural Organizations General Operating Relief, State-LocalPartners, Statewide and Region Networks) with Total Operating Revenues (TOR) at or above $1 million.

During the last granting cycle, the CAC received 341 applications from organizations with TOR at or above $1 million. With more grant programs available for the next granting cycle, these applicants could more than meet the required matching total.

Slate of 2022 Grant Programs and Timeline

The committee reviewed the grant programs that could be offered in 2022 and agreed on the following slate for Council vote.

- Address root causes of inequity? Yes
- Instill faith in government transparency, accountability, and stewardship? Yes
- Position CAC as a leader in the field? Yes

Does this action address a Strategic Framework Aspiration? Yes

2. If so, which one and how?

Reduce barriers to accessing CAC funds, programs, and meetings by examining and addressing Council and agency policies [....].

Removing the matching fund requirement for all applicants with Total Operating Revenues of under $1 million will reduce the barrier of obtaining other sources of funding in order to be eligible for CAC funding.

Removing the 990 requirement reduces the number of supplemental materials required for our applications.

3. NEXT STEPS

1. Is this the right action at this time? Y / N / Other: Yes

2. Why?

Due to increased barriers to funding from COVID-19-related circumstances, removing as many barriers as possible to organizations accessing our funds is necessary.

Putting this into action: Draw or write the decision making chart below:

Council votes on the two recommendations -> Staff implement changes to the guidelines-> Staff/Council provide technical assistance to the filed regarding the change.

Follow-up and Accountability Measures

How will the decision and progress on the action be communicated to various audiences/stakeholders?

Webinars/informational communications about upcoming grant cycle
Guidelines development
Public Council meeting

How will we know if the expected benefit is achieved?

Increased applications from smaller organizations
Quantitative and/or qualitative data directly from stakeholders indicate positive outcomes after implementation of change.

What are the key benchmarks that would indicate satisfactory progress on this action?

More small organizations that are awarded...meeting our strategic plan to prioritize small arts organizations.

What is the reporting mechanism for progress?

Designing the final report to include and inform CAC on:
Statistics of sponsored organizations receiving grants
Statistics on small/very small orgs receiving grants;
And analyzing awardee data to answer the question of whether small orgs request/receive more funds because the matching funds barrier was removed?

What is the support mechanism if progress is stalled?

Regular discussion and updates during Program Policy committee meetings.

Re: 2022 LOCAL ASSISTANCE FUNDING RECOMMENDATIONS

The Programs Allocation Committee recommends Council approve allocations in the amount of $34,500,000 for the slate of 2022 grant programs and associated costs as detailed in the memo and supporting materials, contingent on State funding.

The recommendations proposed here are designed to further the goals that we have set out to achieve over the past few years: to increase the representation of underrepresented groups in the funding allocations that we decide upon each year, and to empower our State-Local Partners at the County level to flourish as leaders and as an extension of our voice in their regions. These goals come together in that the empowerment of the SLPs we are recommending today, with our oversight and accountability for progress on equity goals, is a major step toward reaching communities that have previously been present in less than their proportional numbers in our allocations. It makes sense that by putting resources and decision-making closer to those most intimately involved with the work, we will be able to see the targeted representation increased.

The Decision Support Tool and addenda reflect the current post-pandemic environment and the re-establishment of many grant programs that were temporarily suspended during the COVID-19 crisis. They also reflect the transition from prior State-Local Partner funding levels to allocations that reflect an increased administrative outlay and funds designed specifically for regranting. Our total operating revenue for this grant period is $34.5 million – base funding contingent on next year's State budget plus a sizeable carryover that we will be able to access for this cycle.

We are recommending a scaled approach to a final plan that may ultimately see the SLPs handle even more regranting opportunities. For this grant cycle we recommend:

- a. a base administrative allocation of $100,000 per SLP,
- b. plus three choices for the allocation of regranting funds, a straight allocation of $50,000 to each of 53 SLPs and 2 scaled allocations that offer amounts of $30,000-$110,000 to SLPs broken up into five groups based on population size.

This puts the total allocation to each SLP between $130,000 - $210,000 depending on which choice is made. If choice B or C is selected, the size grouping of the SLP comes into play. Of the various funding scenarios we explored, this population grouping demonstrated the most equitable and balanced totals.

Also included in the recommendation are examples of items to be part of a new SLP-CAC contract that is very clear on SLP duties and responsibilities in this new relationship.

The Decision Support Tool addresses supervision, support and accountability to equity goals that SLPs should be able to jointly define in collaboration with the CAC. These will understandably be different for different SLPs and will involve progress from a baseline. The administrative allocation of $100,000 per SLP is meant to support a full-time Director, an administrative assistant and a physical space that serves as a Country Arts HQ where connections, shared purpose and regional plans can be developed to further establish the SLP as the CAC outreach entity in the field.

Grants that will no longer be offered by the CAC centrally will serve as a framework for what the SLPs will offer to their arts communities, but will not necessarily be precisely what had been offered in prior years. Instead, the SLP will be accountable for goals that will be aligned with the goals of the prior grants. In service to these outcomes, the SLP will develop its own local programs that will be forwarded to the CAC for review, discussion and ultimate sign-off in a supportive and collaborative environment.

Programs SLPs may consider as part of their local regranting and in applying for set-side funds:

- Individual Artist Fellowships
- Impact Projects
- Cultural Pathways
- Veterans Programs
- Innovation Programs

Programs/Investments CAC may consider:

- SLP field support: CAC consultant or employee in the field working with SLPs as the new working relationships and new grant programs develop
- Mentor/Mentee relationship between experienced/less experienced SLPs: $10K/$5K by application

The amounts that were allocated to SLP granting were based on the allocations that would have gone into grants if they remained in the Council portfolio. The set aside amounts were decided upon after extensive research was done into grant awards by county when directly applying to the CAC, data that is available on the CAC website in the grants section, or in a summarized format from the Allocations Committee.

Finally, we are able to offer 2-year funding guarantees to SLP, SRN, Re-Entry, Leaders of Color and JUMP programs to allow these groups to benefit from the stability and documentation reduction in the multi-year environment. These investments in multi-year time frames for established programs are in response to the field's long-standing request for this type of allocation.

This is a structured proposal that includes some choice and flexibility. The plan attempts to address the differences in historical levels of grant awards with a set-aside fund to supplement regranting funds for counties who may apply with evidence of their county's prior performance.

SLP costs comprise 14% of the funding; regranting between 8%-11%.

GOALS OF THE NEW SLP-CAC RELATIONSHIP

- Field is organized and served in county and regional cohorts for direct, targeted services and programs.
- More collaborations take place – between counties, arts organizations, individual artists, other agencies.
- Arts leadership is more visible around the state.
- Communication tools are enhanced: newsletters, videos, press releases.
- Governor’s priorities are clearly present in CAC program design and statewide projects.
- Artists as led by SLPs are active partners in:
 - a. statewide efforts to eliminate racism and inequity;
 - b. disseminating health initiative information;
 - c. contributing to data collection and employment/economic reports;
 - d. safety, mental health, entrepreneurship, environmental stewardship;
 - e. mentoring young artists

Examples of Scaled Expectations in CAC-SLP Contract (across 2 yr period)

- Full-time Executive Director and .5 minimum support position
- Occupying an identifiable space
- Regular reporting on Equity goals, accountable for progress (this will look different for different regions, SLPs craft the plan and work with CAC on success measures.)
- Relationship with County Supervisors
- Mentorship between experienced and new E.D.s

- Enhanced communication around County events
- Annual gathering of either regional or State SLPs
- Accountability to gubernatorial and CAC priorities.
- The potential to adjust the grant offerings suggested by CAC to more locally relevant programs based on data, surveys, current practice, etc.

From “Creative Impact” on the SLP Transformation pg.49-51

- Determine what programs should be funded through the SLPs
- CAC resources can be redirected to build capacity at the local level, enabling greater and more consistent programming
- Conduct a review to determine the timeline and process for increasing the amount of funding to the SLPs. The timeline should include a detailed process for assessment, capacity building, bolstered support, as well as compliance checks. (This will give the SLPs more ownership, control and deeper connection to the CAC.)
- Increase technical assistance and training to the SLPs.
- Design strategies to align SLP priorities with those of the State and the CAC, while allowing for flexibility and self-determination.

Re: Discussion Item - Racial Equity Requirement in Grant Guidelines

Purpose

The purpose of this memo is to provide background and guidance for a robust discussion with Council on advancing the California Arts Council's racial equity requirement for grantees in 2022. The outcome of the discussion will include a set of recommendations and edits to the 2022 grant guidelines. These recommendations will outline how to best implement a racial equity requirement and will be voted on by the Council in the September meeting.

We acknowledge that change requires patience, clear communication, and accountability. By facilitating this discussion and being transparent about our decision-making process we seek to be accountable to constituents' needs and feedback.

Background

In 2020 the California Arts Council included a Racial Equity Statement in our Strategic Framework, solidifying our desire to continue this learning journey.

Racial Equity Statement

As California's state arts agency, the California Arts Council is committed to racial equity both internally through our work environment, and externally through our programming.

We are committed to ensuring that every policy enacted reflects democratic principles of equity and justice.

- We understand that enacting policy in a just and equitable manner considers critical issues of implicit bias and discrimination that requires concerted and purposeful action.
- We believe that bringing together Council, staff and other partners with differing backgrounds and life experiences will enhance our ability to increase opportunities for all arts service organizations to succeed.
- Policies, programs, and activities will be administered to identify and avoid discrimination and barriers to access, and to avoid disproportionately high and adverse effects on communities of color.

- Accountability to our grantees is of central importance to us. We understand the significance of evaluating the impact of our policymaking on grantees over time and utilizing this evaluation in the development of new policy initiatives.
- We are committed to the just and equitable disbursement of resources.
- We will obtain the following information when relevant and appropriate in order to utilize data to evaluate the impact of our equity goals: population served and/or affected by race, color, national origin, and income level, which will include diverse communities across the state such as: communities of color, racially and ethnically diverse individuals, tribal communities, immigrant and refugee communities, and communities that have principal languages other than English.

In addition to the Racial Equity Statement, we have an internal racial equity logic model and action plan. These documents guide our commitment to systemic and structural change towards racial equity. This year the Council decided to include a statement about supporting diverse communities (exemplifying our intersectional approach to racial equity) and a racial equity statement as part of the grant eligibility requirements:

Representation of, by, and for community is a core value of the CAC, including authentic, intergenerational and intersectional connections.

Although not factors in grant decisions, we strongly encourage applications from organizations that are led by, represent, and/or serve systemically marginalized communities, which may include but are not limited to: Arab, MENASA (Middle Eastern, North African, South Asian); Asian; Black, African American; California Native American, Indigenous, Tribal; Currently Experiencing Incarceration; Disabled; Elders, Seniors; Latinx, Chicanx; LGBTQIA+; Low Income; Neuro-Divergent; Pacific Islander; People of Color; Rural; Returned Residents, Formerly Incarcerated; Students of Color; Trans and/or Non-Binary People; Immigrants (Documented and/or Undocumented), Refugees, Asylum Seekers, Migrants; Unhoused, Transient; Veterans; or Youth.

Eligibility Requirement

Organization's Racial Equity Statement:

While the racial equity statement is required as part of the Certification and eligibility review process, it will not be assessed by panelists during the panel review process. Your racial equity statement could include, but is not limited to:

- A description of your region's landscape and how cultural biases and systemic racism have impacted communities of color; and an affirmation of your organization's role in addressing and/or correcting issues of inequity and injustice through racially equitable policies and practices.
- An organizational commitment to address, serve, and uplift communities of color in your region, through your organizational leadership, community partnerships, arts and cultural programming, accessibility, and outreach.

A review of the statements concluded that the quality and depth of response were varied with some being:

- anti-discrimination policies;
- mission statements that were void of any explanation of systemic racism or the organization's commitment to racial equity;
- DEI (diversity, equity, and inclusion) statements.

This data review substantiated that this was a good start for embedding racial equity in the grant requirements and indicates a need to clarify and broaden the requirement. Through our research, we have found that we are in step with other funders and panelists who have requested more robust racial equity requirements.

Discussion

After researching and reviewing this data, along with various models from other funders, the Equity Committee is exploring the following strategies for the racial equity requirement in the 2022 grant guidelines:

- Updating the Equity criterion to include review of the racial equity statement
- Collecting more demographic data on staff and board metrics to assess and monitor our racial equity outcomes and benchmarks

In consideration for this discussion and guideline edits, we acknowledge that as a state agency we must comply with Proposition 209 and that there are opportunities to gather data that supports our racial equity outcomes. Currently, we collect grantee staff and board demographics in the final report and shall continue this practice to track progress and hold ourselves accountable as a funder.

After this discussion, the Equity Committee will take the feedback on these opportunities to complete a Decision Support Tool to provide concrete recommendations at the September 2021 Council meeting.

Questions to consider

- How could these strategies lead to visionary change and the advancement of equity for the field?
- How do these strategies meet the outcomes or aspirations in the Strategic Framework?
- Considering community needs, feedback, and your perspective, what could be the impact of these strategies?

Community Equity Fund: As a city government working through our own challenges of race and equity, we often create barriers for the community and organizations that are closest to the people who need the most help. Our community organizations are successful, even with limited resources. It is time for us to invest in a way that will create systemic change. This means partnering with organizations to create sustainability and recurring funding sources. In addition, the fund could be utilized to invest in job opportunities and training, in our underserved communities, directly through city mentorship and internship programs.

Re: Council Handbook Update

The Governance Committee will be presenting a plan for how the council handbook functions as a living document. It is the goal of the Governance Committee to facilitate a discussion to brainstorm an updated version of this handbook at the September council meeting. On August 19th, council members were resent the most current version of the handbook. Please review the handbook in anticipation of a brainstorming session on how to deploy this document to build, deepen and sustain council engagement.
